Were there any significant obstacles to learning that were beyond the control of the instructor (e.g., scheduling or technology problems, university closings, limitations caused by other students or by group dynamics)? If so, please explain.

Comments
The online meeting format was convenient for scheduling but class discussions were not as open or vibrant as they might be in a face-to-face meeting.
Good class. Good teacher. I find some of the methodologies a little loosey goosey, but I appreciate the attempt to bring in a variety of viewpoints. Even if I found many unpersuasive. That's ok! Teacher is open and facilitates diverse view points. I never felt there was a conclusion I had to arrive at, just that I'd give each methodology a fair shot and get a chance to use it.

What 2-3 aspects of this course were most valuable to your learning experience?

Comments

Well-chosen articles organized in a logical manner that showed the instructor's breadth of knowledge in the subject matter.
Guest presenters from the instructor's personal network that shared their original research.
Clear homework assignments directly related to course readings that allowed students to apply concepts to a practical problem.

Clear expectations.
Good teacher.
Good guest speakers.

Class was a bit easy, but I won't complain.

The ability to contribute in many different ways, not just speaking on camera.

What 2-3 aspects of this course were least valuable to your learning experience?

Comments

Technology, particularly Microsoft Teams and Powerpoint, sometimes got in the way of student presentations and discussion.
Most of the time, technology was integrated seamlessly into the course and allowed for easy access and a deeper engagement with the materials than a textbook alone.

Some of the readings/methodologies. Just a bit hot/cold. The subject matter in general I feel isn't super relevant to my future and current career goals. But I enjoyed the transcribing, harmony/melody things, and the music video analysis (though that was more just fun, and not really useful in any tangible way for my career).

What modifications do you suggest for the next time the course is taught?

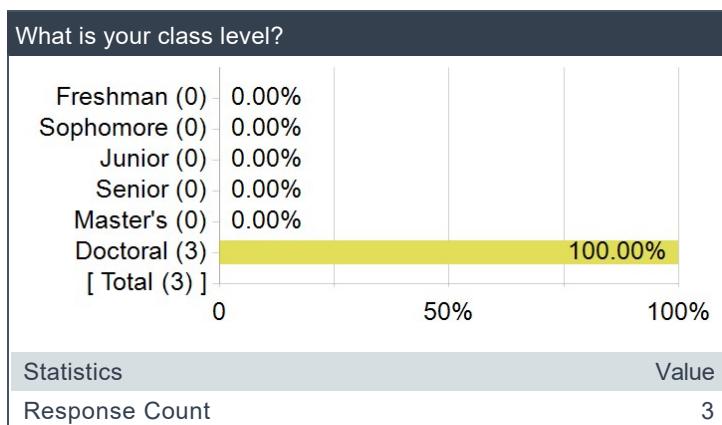

Comments

If the synchronous online format is retained, perhaps a "cameras-on" recommendation in the syllabus would facilitate discussion.
Also, students could be asked to create discussion questions instead of presenting material from the reading.

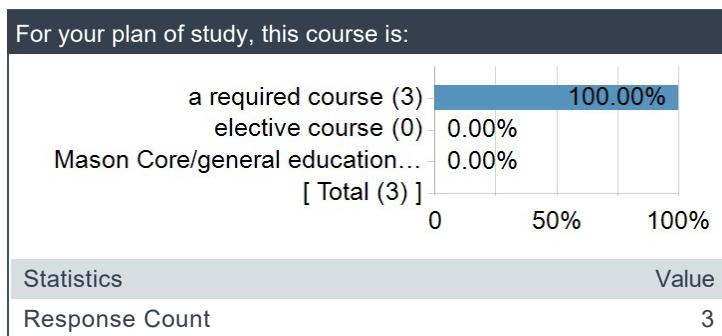

Seems about right.
